

choosing your favors

the knot WEDDING SHOP SHOP NOW >

the knot

Photo Gallery
Dress Gallery

SEARCH GO

Log In | Join Free
Investor Relations

MY KNOT PLANNING GOWNS IN YOUR AREA TALK TV WEDDING SHOP THE NEST

PLANNING GETTING ENGAGED REAL WEDDINGS ASK CARLEY FASHION BEAUTY MAIDS + MOMS GROOMS + GUYS HONEYMOONS

REAL WEDDINGS

Casey & Sam: Beauty on the Beach Near Corolla

Casey Powell and Sam
Gammon

EMAIL THIS ARTICLE

PRINT THIS ARTICLE

tend to take the road less traveled. During a weeklong trip to California, they discovered a small clearing at Yosemite National Park where Sam surprised Casey with a proposal. Yet their hearts remained on the East Coast. The couple, who met in high school, chose a childhood destination on the sandy North Carolina shores to make their wedding dreams come true.

The Bride Casey Powell, a 25-year-old contracts management analyst
The Groom Sam Gammon, a 26-year-old information security engineer
The Date May 28 2006

The Scene A ceremony set against a sand dune, followed by a reception at an Outer Banks beach house in Corolla

Sand and Sky "My family has vacationed in the Outer Banks for as long as I can remember," Casey says. "We wanted to get married outdoors and couldn't think of a better place!" They soon found the perfect spot for the 110-person celebration—a beach house with ocean views and a tent-worthy clearing. "The decor was the sand and the sky...it doesn't get more beautiful than that," the bride says.

A Taste of the Tropics Passionate for lively colors, Casey contrasted the natural surroundings with tropical shades of pink, coral, yellow, orange, and green. This duality figured prominently in the bridesmaid look: Vibrant bouquets of tulips, verbenas, and gerbera daisies beamed against the champagne-color tea-length dresses.

Beachy Decor Following the ceremony, held in front of a sand dune, guests sipped margaritas around the pool. Under the reception tent, glass hurricane lamps tied with coral ribbon and filled with sand, a large white candle, and shells gave the hot pink-accented round tables an all-encompassing beachy effect.

The Fun Never Ends Everyone was having so much fun Casey's father forgot to give a toast. "He realized it at the end, but it was too late!" she says. Not for the newlyweds, who stayed up with friends until the wee hours. We can't imagine them doing it any other way.

-- Kathleen Murray
Photography © Jeff Greenough

For the ingredients that make up this

RELATED ARTICLES

- Charlotte Market Party 2006
- Christine & Callip: A Lakeside Celebration in Pinehurst
- Courtney & Philip: An Oceanside Soiree in Sanderling, NC

INGREDIENTS

INGREDIENTS CEREMONY AND RECEPTION SITE Private home rented through Twiddy & Company Realtors (800) 489-4339, Duck

PHOTOGRAPHY Jeff Greenough Photographer, JeffGreenough.com, Christiansburg, VA

VIDEOGRAPHY Nic McLean, Tight Productions (252) 449-0543, Kitty Hawk

CONSULTANTS Nannette Jernigan and Amanda Whitten, The Proper Setting (252) 441-8166, Kill Devil Hills

GOWN Michelangelo by David's Bridal (888) 480-2743

BRIDESMAID DRESSES Jones New York, Lord & Taylor (800) 223-7440

FORMALWEAR The groom wore a J.Crew seersucker suit (800) 562-0258

FLOWERS Harriet Byrum, Added Touch 2 (252) 209-1686, Kill Devil Hills

CATERING AND CAKE Sonny's Creative Kitchens (252) 491-9969, Kitty Hawk

MUSIC Ceremony: Roy Murray (252) 480-1532, Kitty Hawk; Reception: SoundWavz Entertainment (877) 531-0911, Southern Shores

FAVORS The bride and her mother decorated white sand dollars.

PLANNING A WEDDING IN NORTH CAROLINA? Find your florist, caterer, reception site, and more in The Knot North Carolina resource directory.